Rugby Athletic Releases Statement on BLK Australia Receivership

MINNETONKA, Minn. - Rugby Athletic has received confirmation that BLK Australia recently entered into receivership in an effort to implement practical solutions to improve their business performance in Australia.

“We want to ensure our teams that this will not affect anything that we offer them in terms of partnerships or BLK teamwear in the USA,” Rugby Athletic’s Chris Babiash said. “This situation is isolated to BLK Australia. We will continue to stand behind the BLK brand as the impact of BLK Australia does not affect any global licensee outside of Australia.”

Babiash went on, adding, “Rugby Athletic continues to be in a solid financial position and has managed its BLK production and supply as such where we will continue business as usual.”

Rugby Athletic ensures its rugby teams that any current or future orders with them and BLK will still be handled with the utmost precision and care and they will not see any disturbances in regards to their fulfillments.
